“ O lawd where do I start! Friends, Harley riding partners, confidants. He was small in stature but large in heart. Always had the flashiest cars and motorcycles. They fit his personality. We took a large group of Harley riders to the mountains of N.C for a HOG rally. Ever so confident he had no problem with riding the Blue Ridge Parkway with me (I was raised on those roads) until we made a sudden stop and on his side he went. I laughed so hard. He made me promise I wouldn't tell anybody (pride kicking in). He had to explain how his $5,000. paint job got messed up that night. Of course, it wasn't his fault! Lucas, Dave, and Strobel are waiting on you to ride in the sky. Adios, my friend. Meet me when I get there.

“ I knew Eddie briefly. We shared some classes while attending Murray Vocational High School. I remember he had a customized 1950 Mercury that was the talk of the school. He wasn't a tall man, but he was a giant with that car . Rest in Peace my old friend, until we meet again Glenn Ramsey
